CHARACTER COUNTS!

This weeks Character Counts Recognition goes to Hensley Voellinger from Ms. Wrinn's class for the character trait of Caring. Hensley was in the nurses office waiting for mom to pick her up due to not feeling well. The nurses office only has three cots which were all being used and Hensley was on one of them. A few minutes later a Kindergarten student came in very upset with a belly ache. Hensley immediately stood up and told the Kindergarten student she could lay on her cot. Even though Hensley was ill herself she noticed the younger student needed to lay down and didn't even hesitate to offer her spot. Hensley received the Character Counts wristband, backpack key chain, Free Wendy's Frosty and pencil for being the NES Character of the Week.

Kindergarten Saves Pop-tabs..... The kindergarten students are demonstrating the character trait caring by collecting pop-tabs from cans to benefit the Ronald McDonald House of Evansville. The money received from the recycled pop-tabs is donated to help the families of critically ill children in our area. If you would like to help, please save the pop-tabs from fruit, vegetable, soup, or soda cans. You can give the tabs to any kindergarten teacher or student. Let's pull together to help others!
